The day's rest will make it possible for Mathewson to go in the box, and it is quite likely that he will have the honor of pitching the opening game for the first time in several years. If a game had been possible yeareday Big Jeff Tesreau would have pitched. Matty worked on Monday in Boston and he has had plenty of rest. There is no danger of his hurting his arm now.

Maity made a significant remark years.

It is practically a certainty that Was It is practically a certainty that Nas-flucker will go to the mound for Brook-lyn, and if he does the Giants are in for tough siedding. Though they trimmed the star left-hander on the opening day in Brooklyn, he came right back and mussed them up on the third day. Rucker will come pretty near winning any time the Superbas do anything like fair batting behind him.

THE Giants will open their 1912 season at the Polo Grounds this afternoon with the same flare of trumpets and most of the enthusiasm that would have sent them on their day but for the heavy rains that turned the fields into a lake of water.
